Rebuilding Together Baltimore (RTB) is a registered 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization devoted to repairing homes, revitalizing communities and rebuilding lives by providing no cost home repairs to homeowners earning less than area median income. In our service areas we operate four initiatives with an overall goal to make homes warmer, safer, and drier.

Rebuilding Together Baltimore, formerly known as Christmas in April, was founded in 1989. In 1988, Christmas in April chapters across the country came together to form a national organization (now known as Rebuilding Together), the nation's leading critical home repair non-profit organization. Rebuilding Together works to preserve home ownership, support building generational wealth, and to revitalize communities. Over 120 Rebuilding Together affiliates operate across the country. Affiliates operate independently of the national office and tailor their programs to fit the needs of their communities.

Since 1989, RTB has mobilized over 20,000 volunteers to repair more than 1,800 homes in Baltimore City and Baltimore County. Our work represents a cumulative value of over $20 million for the Baltimore area. The organization serves older adults, families with children, and people with disabilities who do not have the physical or financial means to address their critical home repair needs.
